

INTER-REGIONAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP ASSESSMENT: BRINGING SILICON VALLEY TO LONG ISLAND

Spend your spring break in Silicon Valley!

This is a full-semester course involving classroom experience and online preparation for a one week-long domestic regional tour in a dynamic entrepreneurial ecosystem. Students will work on assessment teams to determine how to develop a specific type of entrepreneurial ecosystem locally based on an already existing model in a different part of the U.S.A.

Course registration and initial deposit due by:
November 30, 2017

Visit the city that is home to many start-ups and global technology companies.

Experience the cultural context in which entrepreneurs live and work.

Fulfill an elective for your Management, Entrepreneurship or Supply Chain major.
